

Bovis Project Management IIF Vision statement

"Bovis Project Management is committed to creating environments Incident and Injury free wherever it has a presence".

Our policy is to integrate this vision in all activities that we undertake. We will endeavour to improve the working conditions of our staff continuously, as well as that of other stakeholders, including clients, consultants, contractors, operatives and the general members of the community wherever we work.

Bovis Project Management is committed to applying the principles of Incident & Injury Free in all our day to day activities to ensure we act in a coordinated manner across the region and, in this way, contribute to improving the professional and the social environment in which we operate.

Our management teams are fully committed and aligned with this vision and agree to embrace the Minimum Safety Standards that respond to the nature of our business.

We intend to operate a Just Culture Approach and we will recognize teams and individuals who show leadership and commitment and who strive to achieve outstanding performance in the improvement of safety on our projects, as well as improving Health and Safety (H&S) standards and practices on all the projects where we are involved.

We will take direct and effective action against individuals who, either directly or indirectly, exercise a negative influence over the achievement of this vision or the application of these Minimum Safety Standards

Finally, Bovis Project Management commit to embed this way of thinking into our day-to-day activities both at work and at home, ultimately creating a safer working and living environment for everyone in the communities in where we operate.
